

Robin Bryce

Committed to Engage, Inspire & Influence others to Abundant Life

An encouraging message of purpose and life change awaits to give hope for dailyness—in relationships, marriage, parenting, work and ministry at various types of events and conferences.

About Robin

As speaker and writer of iGETitLIFE, Robin is committed to engage, inspire and influence people toward abundant life with God. She encourages others to reach their God-given potential, motivating and leading with humor, biblical relevancy, and authenticity. She is a favorite at conferences, seminars, and retreats, as she delivers hope with her passion for God and others.

Her insights are published in All My Good Habits I Learned from Grandma, Thomas Nelson, 2007, I'll Be Home for Christmas, 2005, and quoted in Seeing Through the Lies: Unmasking the Myths Women Believe, Regal, 2007. She has a degree in Christian Ministries, and is a graduate of CLASServices for Christian leaders, authors, and speakers.

Robin is an out-of-ordinary pastor's wife to an extra-ordinary husband, and mothers three hit-and-miss style. Her Texas home is full of laughter, noise, and other critters. She loves to travel and meet new people where she can enjoy the quiet of strangers or initiate new friendships. Usually, it's the latter.

Ministry Topics

Robin delivers a unique and fresh message with current issues and stories of God's work in her life. Each message is crafted with the audience in mind. She delights in tailoring her message to your topic. Below are a few of her requested topics.

The Quiet Place: Entering the Eternal Chat Room

Not just a prayer, but a conversation. A sacred dialogue is the key Robin shares to develop a mere believer into a passionate follower of God. Her experience delivers inspiration and instruction into this tried method of fellowship with God. Listen in to hear how to live above the circumstances and live out your life's purpose.

Confessions of a Preacher's Wife

Throwing man-made religious rules to the curb, Robin seeks to know Jesus and follow him intimately. She has found freedom to be all God wants her to be, giving her boldness. Called "a different bird," she shares with authentic integrity and honesty about marriage, ministry, and Christianity—a peek into a pastor's cracked fishbowl. Join the laughter and tears as Robin confesses what it's like to be a minister's wife and how to live like a genuine Christ follower.

He Said, She Said; About Marriage

Revealing the truth about men, women, and marriage, Robin and her pastor-husband, Chuck, banter over their differences. Words fly in a unique struggle of unity, him taking the woman's side and she the men's. They laugh at their struggles and tear-up with their pain providing a humorous, encouraging time for couples to relax into a deeper intimacy, learn how to fight, and declare war on "who's first." (Robin presents this topic by herself if requested.)

Lost My ID: Where Did It Go?

Trying to find purpose, identity, and worth in a life filled with expectations, voices, and roles sent Robin over the edge. She searched for truth and found hope and her purpose for living. Life's common pursuits, success, beauty, and love, gained perspective. Tune in to gain inspiration to become the you God designed you to be.

A Renewed Mess

With grand plans how her grown-up life would be, Robin shook with life's harsh realities and shattered dreams. A pointless, doomed mess discovered dreams don't die. Find hope as Robin shares how destroyed dreams and messy lives are renewed and restored when placed in God's hands.

Man's Maintenance Manual for Smart Women

With lots of time under her belt and rocky places traversed, Robin writes to help females deal with men. She explains in simple ways how to care for the men in your life, gain real intimacy, and have the enviable relationship that other women seek. A few quick starts are to add affirmation, admiration, and affection to your care regimen. Read up on all the insights Robin shares in this presentation.

Raising Cain!

Got a kid you don't want to be seen in public with? Raising a little Cain? Robin, mother of three, shares the joys and heartaches of how her inner child helped her bring up her kids. Journey with Robin to discover, love, and train children in God's plan for life with authentic relational parenting.

Women's Ministry: Beginning and Ending Well

From going it alone to building a team, Robin understands women's ministry including the tough times and difficulties. The passion to see women's lives changed grows as Robin explores trends, personalities, talents, and team building strategies to make a difference in our world.

Home-Schooling the Heart of God

Whether public, private or home school, the real training comes from the parents. Robin has experience with the various methods and the nuts and bolts of training children. Having the right tools makes a difference. Using a hammer on a wing nut isn't the best idea. Bend your ear as Robin shares her mistakes and insights in teaching children.

Endorsements

"God has a definite call on Robin's life! Her down-to-earth presentations delight the senses, while her practical insight inspires women to a deeper relationship with Christ. With the skill of a sage, she's able to make the most complex Biblical truth simple to understand and relative to today. I can't wait to be with her again!"

Vonda Skelton

Speaker & Author of four books, including Seeing Through the Lies: Unmasking the Myths Women Believe

"Robin has a unique voice which connects with real life needs and draws you in with both its spiritual content and practical applications. You will find her to be personable, engaging, and able to connect with people of all ages. She has benefited our association of churches and blessed those who have come in contact with her."
